Hi,

I wanted to write this letter to you because, after the insane year I've had since August 2025, I want to share what happened, how I survived it, and why Get to Your Next Level is my favorite program I've ever created.

You see, since last year, it's felt like big chunks of my life have been nearly obliterated. From the death of my grandmother, my dog, and a friend, to clients breaking contracts and agreements in surprisingly dismissive ways. A car accident. The absolute racket of dealing with insurance. Family emergencies. And the state of the world we're all living in.

And those are just the things I'm comfortable sharing. There were other experiences that genuinely altered my perception of life, family, God, and myself.

I'd be a liar if I said none of it affected me, or that I was able to get through everything without breaking a sweat. I wasn't.

To put it simply, these past fourteen months have demanded more of me than I felt I had within me. And if it weren't for what I developed and now teach in Get to Your Next Level, I honestly don't know how I would have survived them without completely breaking down.

You see, I created Get to Your Next Level for me back in 2021. I was going through a breakup, dealing with the beginning of long-haul COVID symptoms, trying to figure out my finances, watching my relationship with my father fall apart, and truly feeling that, despite all my hard work, I was a failure.

I needed to change the way I was thinking, choosing, and living. That work became this program. And five years later, it's still the work I return to when life gets difficult.

I don't know your full story. I don't know all the battles you've fought or the challenges you've had to overcome. But if you're still reading this, I suspect something about this experience is speaking to you.

CONTINUED →

A note from me to you, continued...

And I want you to know this program has become more and more infrequent. The last time I ran Get to Your Next Level was two and a half years ago. As I deepen my work with business owners and CEOs while continuing to grow as an artist, the chances of doing this program again lessen with time. I can't promise when, or whether, I'll offer it again.

There are two questions I'd love for you to answer honestly:

01 What in my life have I been wishing would change or heal, especially for a long time? Maybe it's the feeling of never being chosen. Maybe it's the financial yo-yo you can't seem to break. Or maybe you're getting older and your dreams still haunt you instead of supporting you.

02 Do I believe I deserve my next level enough to give myself the support and opportunity to pursue it?

If you're in your thirties or older, have invested in your mindset and career, and know that coaching works, but somewhere along the way you've disconnected from believing things can improve, I especially want you to consider joining us.

Above all, this is for you if you know you cannot go into 2027 carrying the same financial, emotional, and professional frustrations and limitations you've been living with.

Get to Your Next Level begins November 30. The current tuition of $2,997 is available through November 6. On November 7, it increases to $3,500. Third-party financing options are available, subject to approval.

Feel free to read through the rest of this guide for the full breakdown. But if you already know this is your next step, I'd love to welcome you.

Pepz

ONE GOAL. 21 DAYS.

SUPPORT WHILE YOU DO IT.

You have ambition. You have gifts. We work on turning them into decisions, actions, and results you can see.

01

CHOOSE YOUR SKELETON KEY GOAL

Before we begin, identify the results and behaviors you want to change. We'll choose one goal that can unlock other areas of your life, so your energy has somewhere specific to go.

02

SEVEN LIVE COACHING SESSIONS

Across 21 days, we create the strategy for your goal and work on the behaviors that keep getting in the way. Bring the offer you keep editing, the decision you're avoiding, or the follow-through that keeps slipping.

03

DIRECT ACCESS TO ME VIA TELEGRAM

Ask questions and submit your actions for feedback between sessions. When you're stuck or unsure about your next step, bring it to me while you're actually doing the work.

04

ACCOUNTABILITY AT LEAST TWICE A DAY

Receive daily accountability check-ins at least twice a day during the program. Use them to share what you've done, flag where you're stuck, and keep your next action in focus.

THE EIGHT PRINCIPLES WE WORK THROUGH

GOALS + FOLLOW-THROUGH / TIME + PRIORITY
UNSHAKEABLE CONFIDENCE / EXCUSES + EGO
URGENCY / CLARITY OF VISION
FORGIVENESS + RELATIONSHIPS / MONEY

CHANGE YOUR BEHAVIOR. CREATE THE STRATEGY. PUT IT INTO PRACTICE.

WHY PEPZ?

BECAUSE THIS WORK IS LIVED.
